BARBECUES IN SIGHT

Strong Contrast Between Democratic and Republican Gathering.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HOUSTON, VA., November 4.-Tre Democrats of old Hallfax county turned out en masse to-day to hear Governor Montague close their campagn, and for nearly two hours they listened to a speech of such brilliancy and power as has not been heard on this historic soll in many years.

Halifax Democrats had killed the fattel calf in abnor of the Governor's coming. and the vast throng of men and women from all portions of the county turn d out to do him nonor.

There were two barbecues held within a stone's throw of one another, and the Republican meeting was addressed by former Congressman Jacob Yost, of Strong Contrast.

Strong Contrast.

The contrast was at once striking, and the Democrats did not suffer by the comparison. In a valley just below the historic and beautiful little town the unterrified Democracy gathered to greet the distinguished Chief Executive of the State, while in plain view, upon a nearby slope, a little bunch of negroes and white Republicans heard Mr. Yost. When the speaking was over the two respective crowds were fed upon the good things of life, for which old Southside Virginia has long been famed, and the day was greatly enjoyed by all.

Judge Lewis was advertised to speak with Mr. Yost, and Congressman Flood was to have appeared with the Governor, but they both missed their trains and did not arrive.

Governor Montague came on a morning train from Richmord and was driven here from South Boston by Mr. R. S. Barbour, his long-time friend, whose guest he is to-night.

The Meeting.

The day was great, from a Democratic viewpoint, and the party is going to give a good account of herself in Halifax next Tuesday. Chairman R. Holt Easley presided at the Democratic meeting, and Mr. Lewis C. Watkins introduced the Governor in a brief, but eloquent address. Before the Governor was predress. Before the Governor was pre-sented, Mr. M. B. Booker, the youthrul and eloquent House nominee, made a graceful appeal for his ticket, and following the Governor; came Senator was bam P. Barksdale, who praised the ad-ministration of His Excelletey, and thanked him for his releaded speech. The Governor was at his best to-day, and was at once elequent, persuasive and looked in his meaning the property of the control of the property of the pr legical in his manner.

Honest Elections.

Governor Montague's discussion of the subject of honest elections was brilliant to a degree, and after inquiring why the Republicans had not brought them in Ponnsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Delaware, he said: "My friends, 'party creeds and party platforms will not make honesty, in elections. The Republicans have done more stealing in Pennsylvania it twenty years. Honest elections will come when the people, irrespective of parties, determine they shall be honest. The Democratic party in Virginia is younger and closer to the hearts of the people than ever before. I believe in a Democracy that gauges a rich man without shame."

The Governor eloquently reviewed the history of the Democratic party and its splendid achievements during its unbroken relgn of twenty-one years in Virginia, and when he ame to discuss the care being taken of the malmed and crippled heroes of 1861-1865, he provoked great enthusiasm by saying: "For God's sake, let us stand by those is the hour of our strength who stood by us in the hour of our weakness."

Mayor McCarthy Makes a Fine Speech at Drakes Branch.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTE C. H., VA., November 4.—The Democrats of Midway District had a spiendid meeting at Balleyville, this county, to-day, the speakers being Congressman Carter Glass and Commonwealth's Attorney Thomas E. Watkins, Mr. Watkins, in introducing Mr. Glass, made a rousing speech, dealing with the live issues of the pending campaign, and urging upon the voters to vote the entire Democratic ticket. Mr. Glass, when he arose to speak, was greeted by an enthusiastic audience.

His discussion of the issues was made in a capityating and incisive manner. In speaking of the Republicans his thrusts were straight from the shoulder, and he dealt some powerful blows. Mr. Glass fully sustained his oratorical powers, and his speech will bear fruit on election day.

This afternoon at three o'clock Mayor. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Glass fully sustained his oratorical powers, and his speech will bear fruit on election day.

This afternoon at three o'clock, Mayor Carlon McCarthy, of Richmond, addressed the people at Drake's Branch. The Mayor made a very fine speech. He was introduced by Judge Boylan Green, and in an hour's speech put in some effective work for the Democrats. He is a capitvating speaker, and is justly entitled to the coguomen of the 'Live Wire.' Mr. C. R. Green also made an address in his inimitable style. To-night the people of Keysville were addressed by Mayor McCarthy and Judge Boylan Green. Judge Green spoke first. Both of these orators delighted their auditors, An oyster supper was served after the speaking.

The Democratic outlook in the county is bright, and the people are becoming alive to the importance of the election Charlotte may be counted on to give a good account of herself on election day.

BOTH PARTIES CLAIM GOVERNOR FOR OHIO

Republican Chairman Dick Estimates 83,851 Plurality, and Democrats, 36,000

ACCOMAC CGURTHOUSE, VA., November 4.—The gubernatorial campaign in Accomac has been very quiet until the last few days. The Democrats have now taken on new life, and have greatly aroused themselves. They are holding meetings at nearly all of the preclicts in the county, and are using every effort to get the people to come out to vote, so that Accomac can poll its usual large Democratic majority.

The local orators and speakers have been aided in the campaign's closing hours by Mr. Samuel L. Kelley, of Richmond. He spoke at Wachapleague rfi-day night, at Hallwood this afternoon, and addressed an exceptionally large and enthusiastic nudlence on Chifacteague Island to-night. This is Mr. Kelley's first visit to the Eastern Shore, and his pleasing speeches and attractive manner have caught the favor of the people.

His speeches contain much to enthuse his hearers, his praise and defense of his leader. Mr. Swanson, his ridicule of me Republican promise of "free school' books which would include those to thou sands of negro children were particularly telling points.

Given a Cordial Reception and Defends His Record.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DHWYN, VA., Nov. 4—The Republican speaking here to-day by J Lee Moore and Judge Lewis was widely advertised, and a large crowd was present to hear the exponent of Republican doctrine. Judge Lewis was detained and did not arrive until 2.9. M. His speech was brief, as he had to leave in forty minutes for Richmond. Judge Lewis received quite an ovation as he was conducted to the stand. He was introduced in an eulogistic speech by Colonel Hubard. Judge Lewis said that his acceptance of the nomination was a great sacrifice and was accepted with reluctance, but he went where duty called. The Democrats for the last forty days had conducted their campaign on a plan that was a disgrace to any party; he had endeavored to conduct his on the highest plane. I have traveled largely over this State, and don't you be surprised if we have a fair election to see me elected to the high position of Governor of this grand old State. This country bounded forward in prosperity since McKinley's election, furnaces opened and trade sprung into active life when they knew they would have protection.

You all know the man who was denounced a few years ago now is the greatest man in the country. The whole city of Richmond was clamoring for an invitation to lunch with him. I would not be surprised in a year from now for them to say that they had been lying on me and that I was a pretty decent fellow.

He could not believe the people of Vir ginia would remove from power a party with such a record for one whose record in Virginia had been filled with official in Virginia had been filled with official scandal and prodigality. He then paid his respects in vigorous and caustic terms to the political record of L. L. Kent and Gleaves Put in Hard Licks for Republicans. .

CHRISTIANSBURG, VA., November .-Captain W. P. Kent and J. L. Gleaves spoke to a large and representative audtence of Republicans here to-day and were given a very enthusiastic reception, They spoke along the same lines as in closest attention. Both were quite ag-gressive and arraigned the Democracy of the State but disclaimed any bitter-ness or mud slinging and said they made these charges on Democratic authority as told by the candidates in the recent primary. They laid special stress upon the free school book question, election officials and the improvements of the officials and the improvements of the public roads.

It was Captain Kent's first speech here and he made a good impression as did Mr. Gleaves. The parties are waging the hottest fight in years in this county and both are claiming the county. The Republicans claim their candidate for clerk by 200 majority, and legislature by 200. The Democrats claim they will win for the legislature, but make no claim as to the clerk, though they are trying to pull their candidate through.

Conservative Views Indicate That the Maryland Amendment

(By Associated Press.)

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 4.-The main issue of the Maryland campaign, which practically closed to-night, is the proposed constitutional amendment, the avowed purpose of which is to disfranchiae the illiterate negro voters. One of the clauses of this amendment provides that to be qualified to vote a person must be "able to read any section of the constitution of this State submitted by the officers of registration, and to give a reasonable explanation of the same to the registration officer." Tals provision has been vigorously opposed by a large number of Democrats, including Governor Warfield, Attorney-General Bryan and United States Senator Rayner, as opening the way to flagrant abuses, with ssue of the Maryland campaign, which and United States Senator Rayner, as opening the way to figrant abuses, with the result that many Democrats, including independents and regulars, have openly joined the Republicans in opposing the amendment. Apparently the foreign vote in Baltimore which has here-tofore, been divided between the two parties, will be cast almost solidly with the Republicans.
